The Parable of the Sower What Kind of Heart Do You Have?

Jesus once told about a farmer scattering seed. Some fell beside the road, some on rocky ground, some among thorns, and some on good soil.

In Luke chapter 8, Jesus explained that the seed represents the Word of God, while the different soils represent the hearts of those who hear it.

Some never allow God's Word to take root. Others receive it gladly but fall away when difficulties come. Still others allow life's worries, riches, and pleasures to choke out their faith.

But Jesus said the good soil represents those who hear the Word, hold it fast, and "bear fruit with patience."

The same seed was scattered everywhere. The difference was the soil.

God's Word is still being planted today. So perhaps the most important question isn't simply, "Have I heard God's Word?" but "What kind of heart does God's Word find in me?"
